

2012 Electrical Code Course

The new 2012 Canadian Electrical Code contains over 180 updates and revisions - the most comprehensive set of changes ever. This course will be the first opportunity to learn about the big changes which may impact your company's work practices, policies and procedures related to electrical installations and safety. There will also be an opportunity for participants to discuss a variety of code related problems. This course is ideal for electricians and electrical contractors who need to upgrade their code knowledge. A list of key changes for electrical contractors can be found here: <http://www.csa.ca/documents/2012cec/CodeChanges-ElectricalContractors.pdf>

In addition to covering all sections of the Electrical Code, the course will examine the following:

- Safety Standards Act
- BC Amendments
- BC Directives
- Electrical Safety Regulation
- Information Bulletins
- Safety Standards General Regulation

This course is recognized by the BC Safety Authority (BCSA) and is a pre-requisite for applying for the Class A, B or C Field Safety Representative (FSR) Examination. Each successful participant will be issued a letter of completion, which is required before writing any exams.

Instructor: With 30 plus years of industry, code and inspection experience, Vincent Yu is one of the most well respected Electrical Code instructors in the province. Mr. Yu is an instructor recognized by the BC Safety Authority.
