FREE Safety Training

As BC's non-profit construction safety association we provide construction companies with free safety training to help them understand and manage their health and safety responsibilities, and fine tune their safety operations in order to reduce workplace injuries and site delays. This training can help companies avoid safety violations and fines and even put savings back in their pocket.

Most of our courses run for 1-2 days and provide great results for improving your business operations. There is no limit to the number of employees you put through our training. All training is free for employees of companies registered in WorkSafeBC's Construction Sub-Sector 721, 722, and 723. Applications received from other companies are determined on a case by case basis.

We have several upcoming courses scheduled for March and April in Burnaby, Coquitlam, Victoria, Kelowna, and Prince George. Attached is our program schedule for your review.

Our Safety Management Training courses include an Owner's Orientation, Train the Safety Trainer, Early and Safe Return to Work, Foundations of health and safety, and our online Principles of Health and Safety Management course. We also offer CSTS training - a requirement on most job sites in Alberta and a growing number of jobsites in BC, Construction Safety Officer designations, and the only high-risk traffic control training accepted by WorkSafeBC under Section 18 of the Occupational Health and Safety Regulation.

We also have a Certificate of Recognition (COR) program that offers companies that become COR certified up to a 15% rebate on their WorkSafeBC premiums. Also, companies that are certified often use their COR designation as a calling card when bidding on jobs.
