BC Survey for the ICBA

October 2026

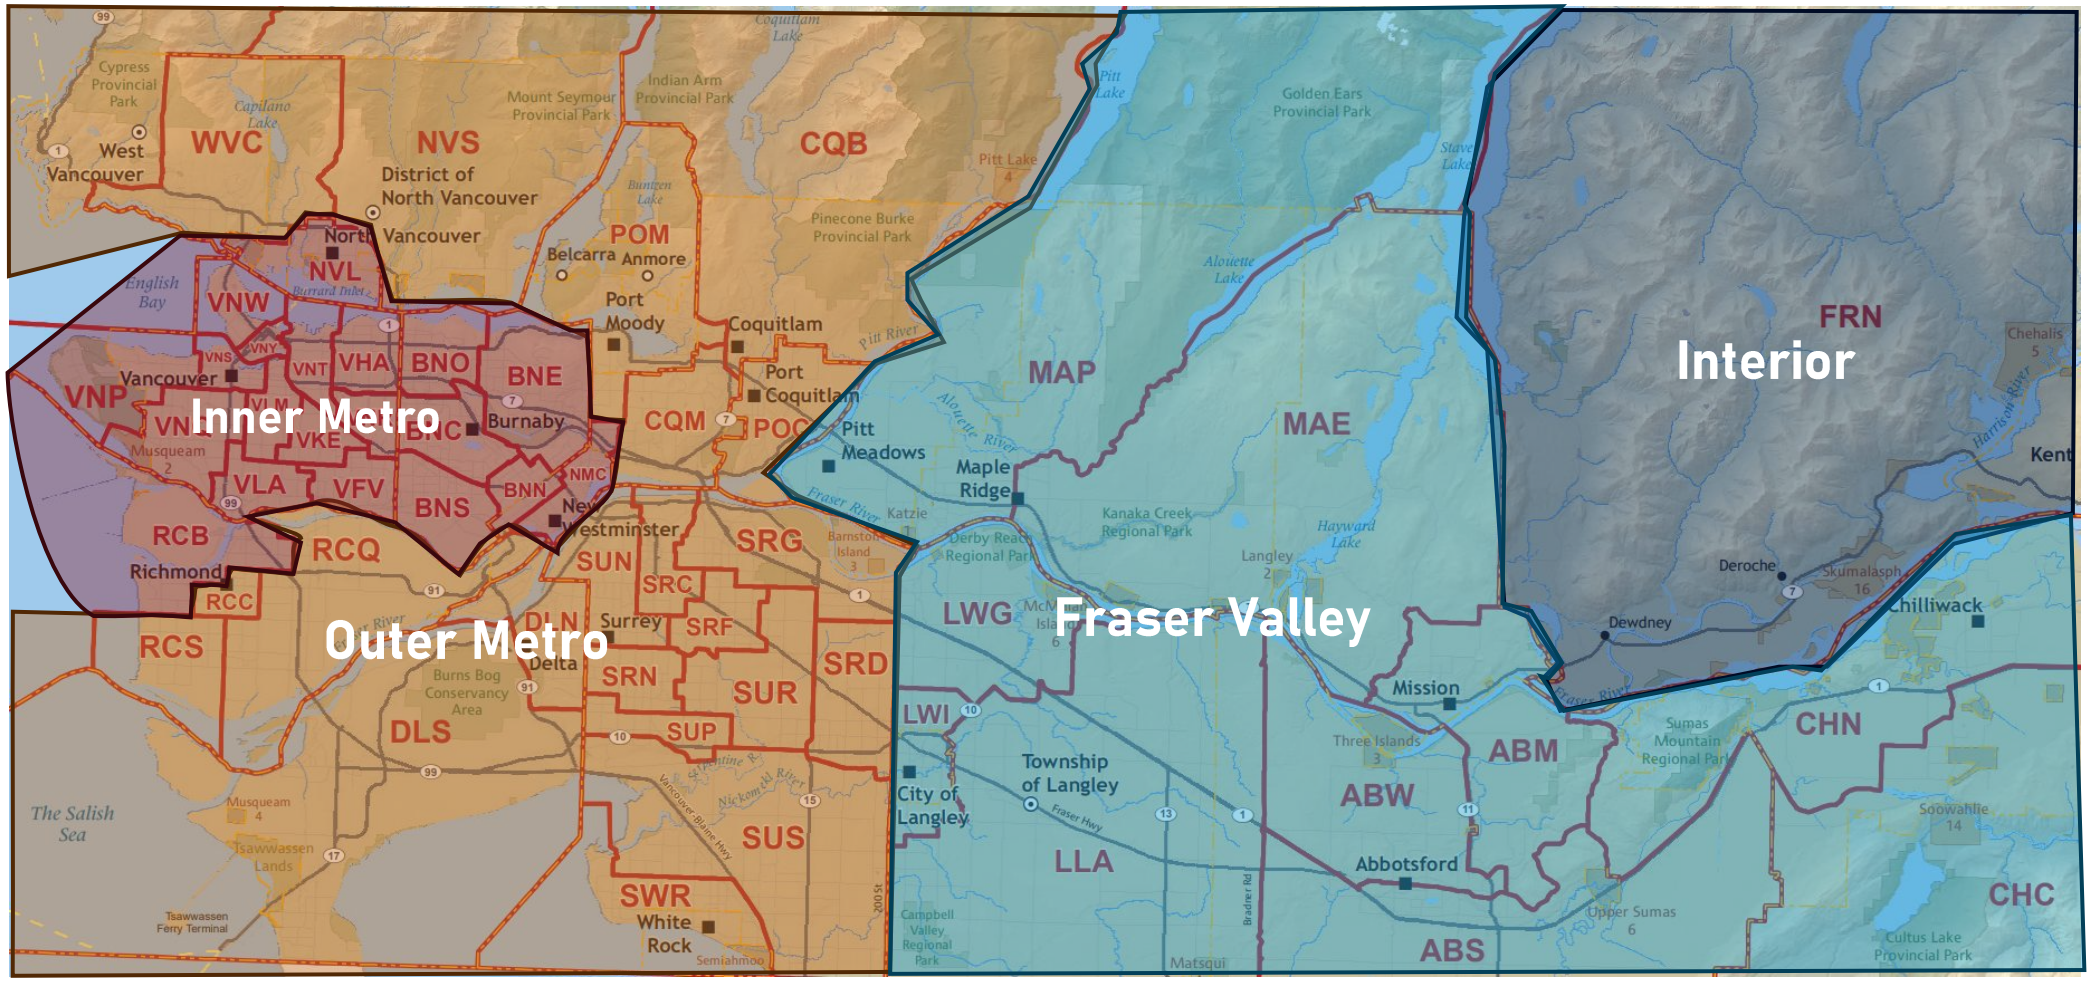

ONE PERSUASION

Methodology

Methodology

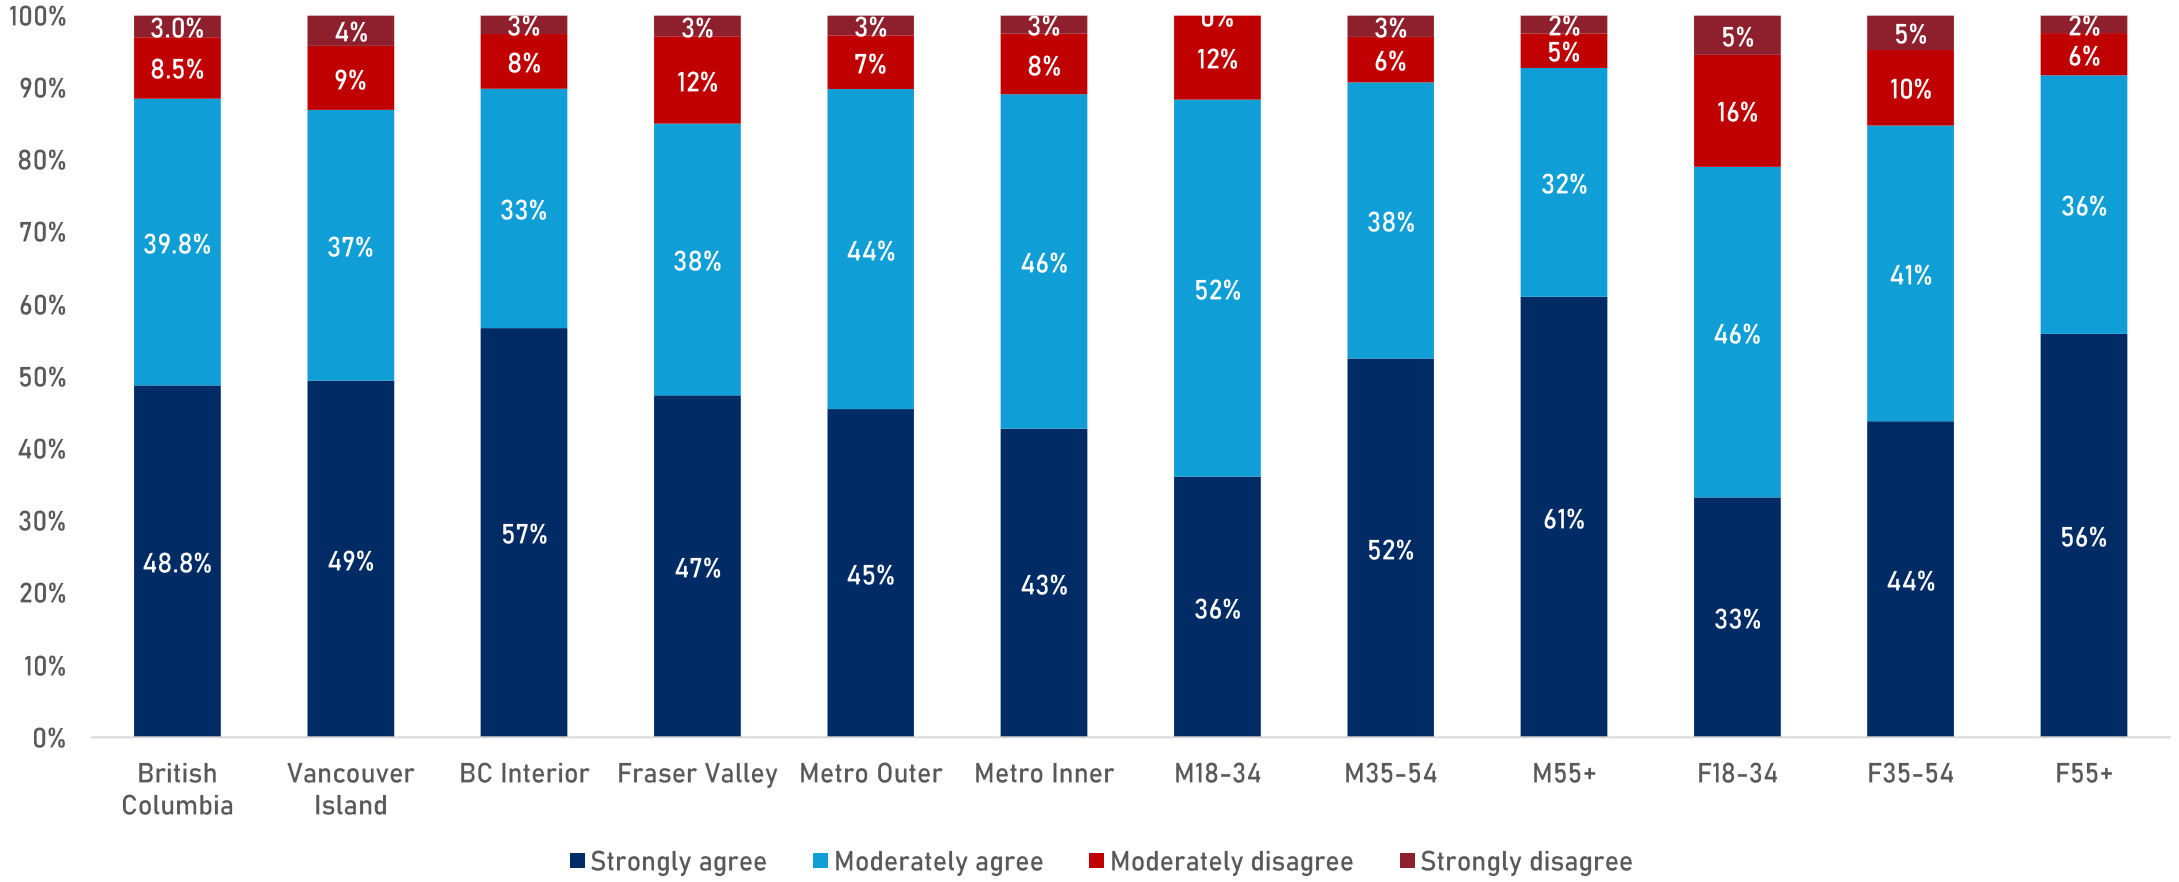

- 2,004 British Columbian adults were surveyed online using a national representative panel in English.
- The survey was conducted from October 2 to 6, 2026
- The margin of error is +/- 2.2%, nineteen times out of twenty
  - Subgroups have larger margins of error
- The results have been weighted for accuracy by age, gender, region, language and past provincial and federal votes using the most recent census data from Statistics Canada.

Geographic Regions

BC should invest in natural gas-powered electrical power plants, rather than buy electricity from the US that was generated with BC-produced natural gas at ten times the cost, as it does now

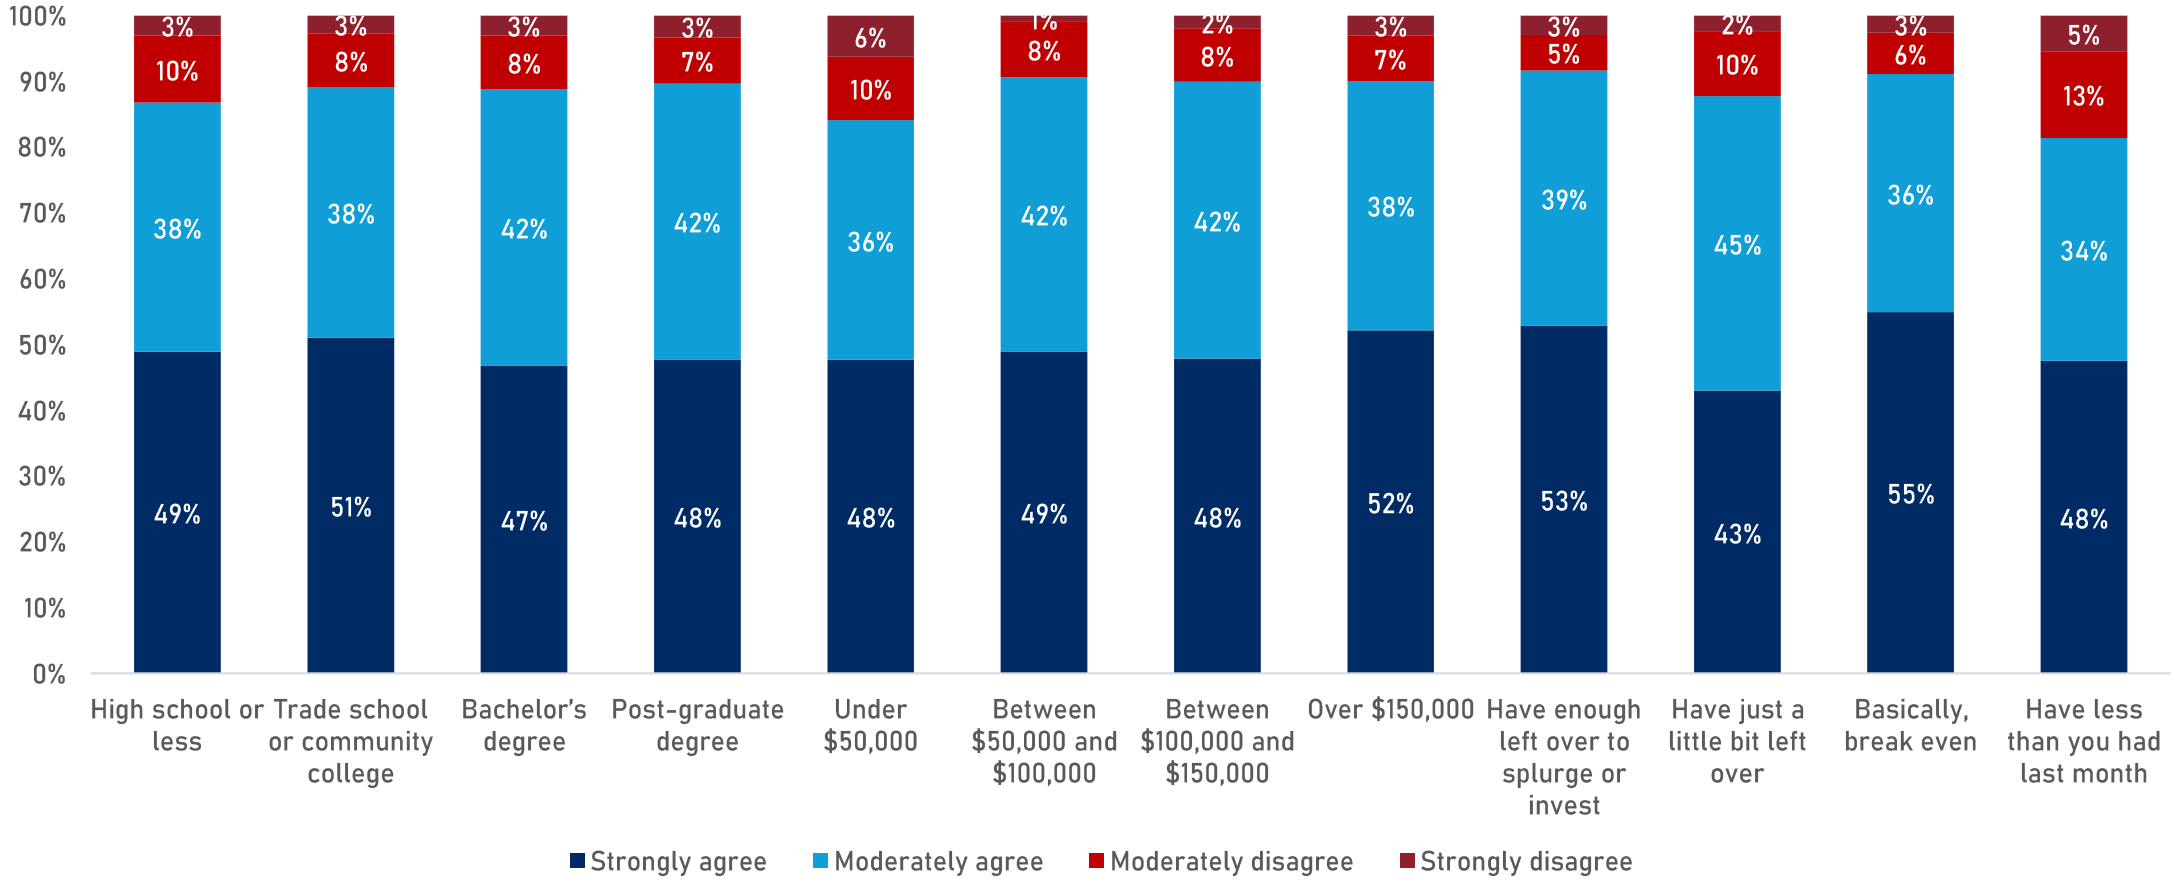

By region, age and gender

Do you agree or disagree with the following statement: BC should invest in natural gas-powered electrical power plants, rather than buy electricity from the US that was generated with BC-produced natural gas at ten times the cost, as it does now.

BC should invest in natural gas-powered electrical power plants, rather than buy electricity from the US that was generated with BC-produced natural gas at ten times the cost, as it does now

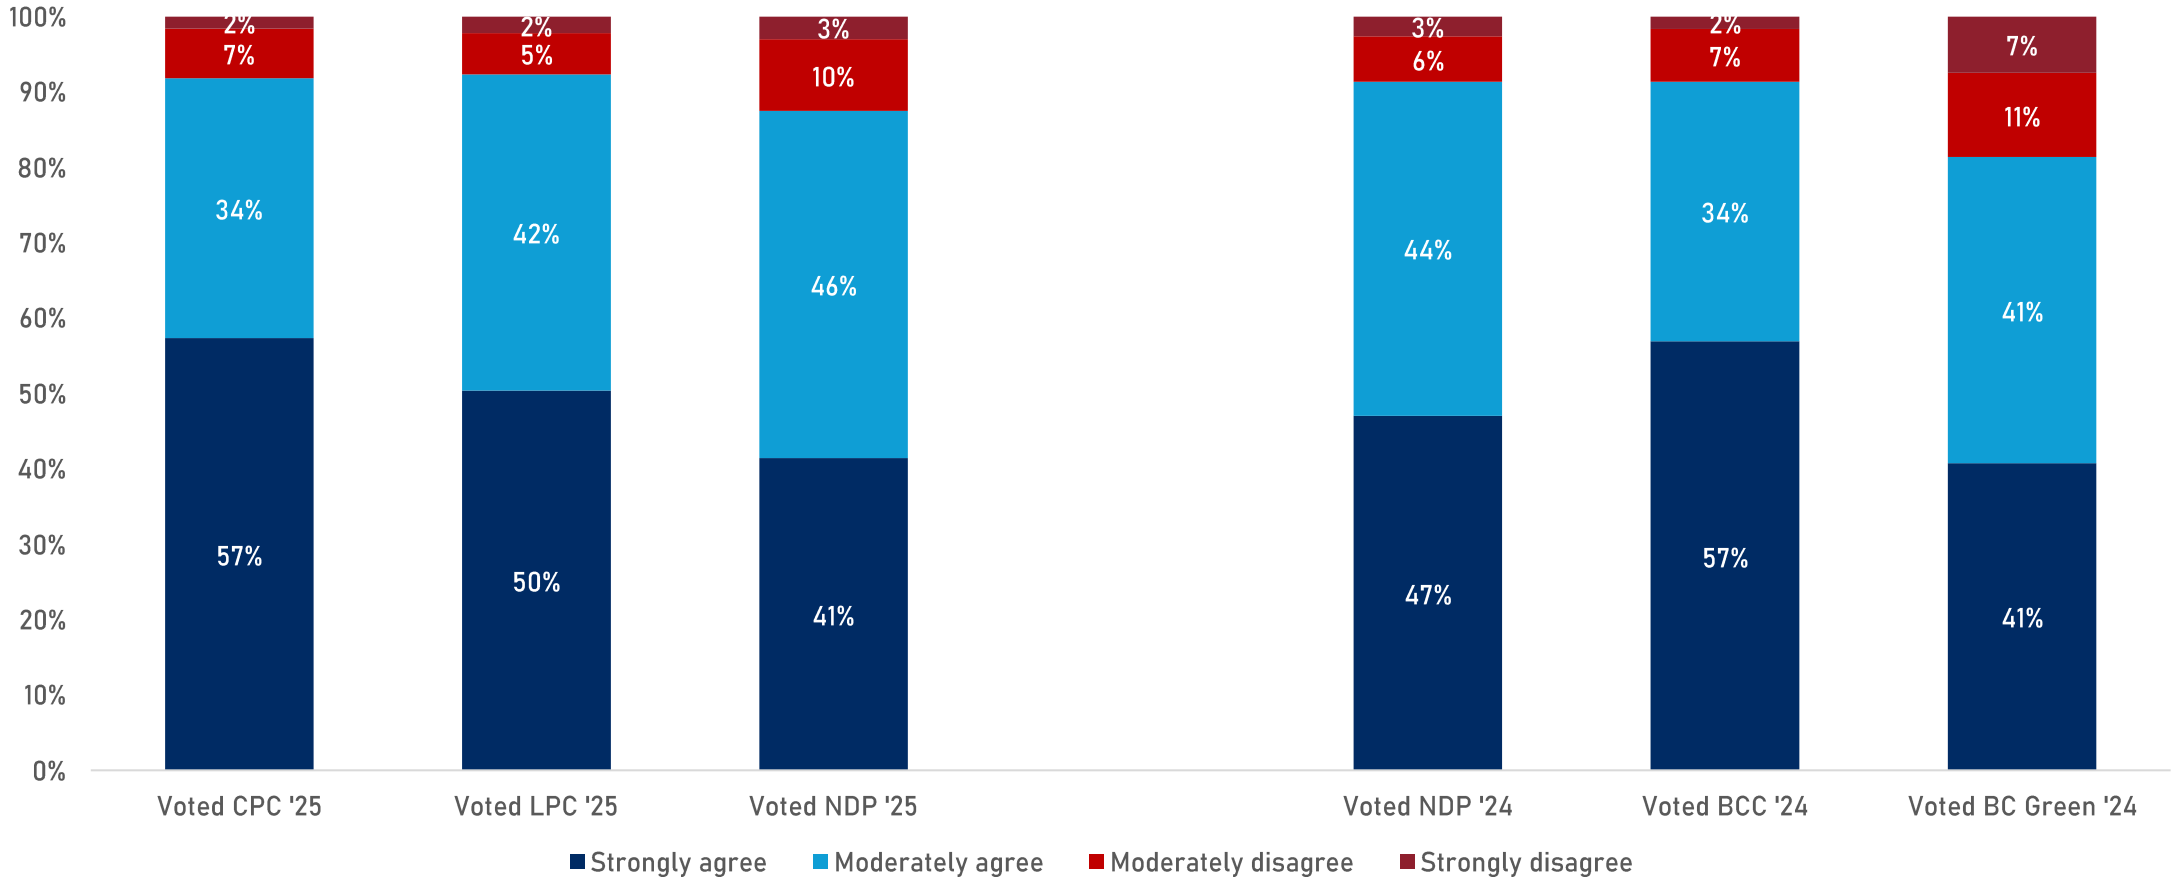

By education, household income and financial situation

Do you agree or disagree with the following statement: BC should invest in natural gas-powered electrical power plants, rather than buy electricity from the US that was generated with BC-produced natural gas at ten times the cost, as it does now.

BC should invest in natural gas-powered electrical power plants, rather than buy electricity from the US that was generated with BC-produced natural gas at ten times the cost, as it does now

By past provincial and federal vote

Do you agree or disagree with the following statement: BC should invest in natural gas-powered electrical power plants, rather than buy electricity from the US that was generated with BC-produced natural gas at ten times the cost, as it does now.

ONE PERSUASION

Hamish Marshall
Partner | Research and Strategy
hamish.marshall@onepersuades.com

ONE PERSUASION