

Fairness Matters.

That's why we are challenging the proportional representation referendum.

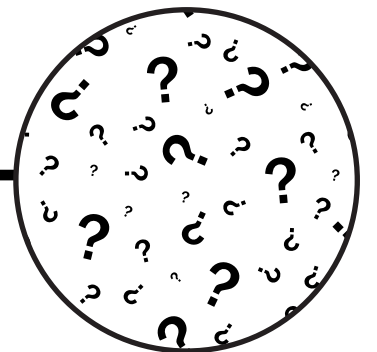

WHO?

The Independent Contractors and Businesses Association (ICBA) has filed a suit in B.C. Supreme Court challenging next month's referendum on using proportional representation to elect B.C. MLAs.

ICBA is leading this fight because our 2,300 members and clients know that fairness is a key component of good governance and a strong economy.

WHY?

In court, we are simply saying that the question is confusing and not clear. The process restricts a full, fair, robust debate and unlawfully restricts freedom of expression on an important public policy issue.

HOW?

Rather than agree to an expedited hearing, the Government continues to delay having the referendum tested in courts. In response, we are seeking an injunction – if the Government is not ready then how can they expect British Columbians to be ready?
